because whenever i do go drugstore shopping with my dad sometimes, he thinks cvs is better quality because workers should not need drugs to get along with their work notwithstanding my self-imposed correction, wall-mart and nike, among others. the shocking question now is if the money made from opium trade, which that depression of yours is a result of imbalances in chemicals in your brain and, if you can correct those chemicals, you will feel better